

Steering Jacket Tube Bearing

A ball-type steering jacket bearing is used, improving steering gear performance and ease of handling. Fig. 15 illustrates this construction.

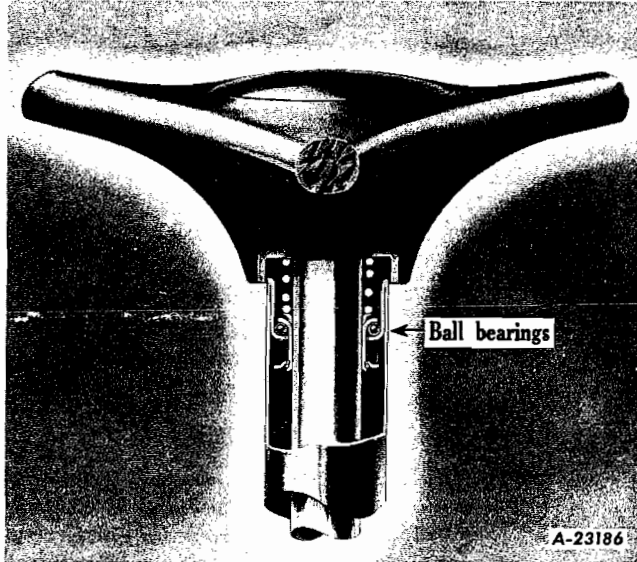

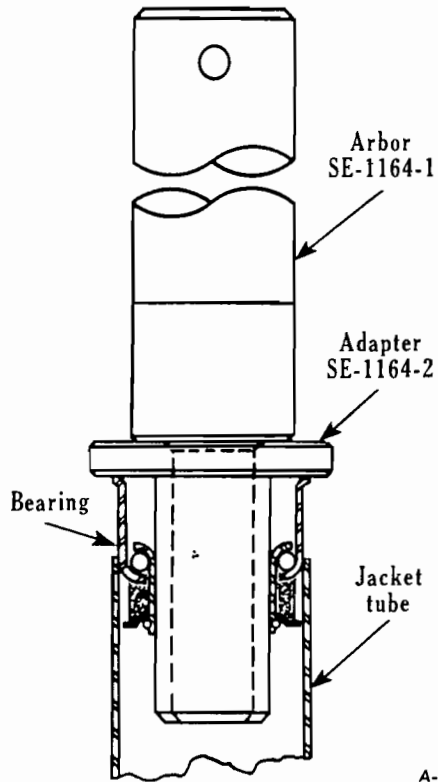

Fig. 15 - Showing location of jacket tube bearing

Special service tools (SE-1164) are available for this bearing, and are to be used for installation of a new bearing (see Fig. 16).

A-22890

Fig. 16 - Installation of steering gear jacket tube bearing